Beyond Wireless Temperature Monitoring Systems

Famous Brands has recently undertaken a project whereby we have centralized the monitoring and reporting of chiller and freezer temperatures across all of our manufacturing plants and distribution centers. We selected Beyond Wireless as our partner in this endeavor.

Food Safety is a non-negotiable element of our operations and as such, ensuring adherence to the required temperatures across our business is paramount. Achieving this objective is not possible without a reliable and competent monitoring system.

Over and above the easy to use App that provides our operations teams on time access to temperatures, the monitoring system is able to provide alerts and a large amount of data which can be pulled from anywhere within our organisation.

I feel comfortable to recommend Beyond Wireless an expert supplier in the provision of temperature monitor systems and technology.

Yours faithfully
